

To: Arguto, William[Arguto.William@epa.gov]
From: Helverson, Robert
Sent: Sun 1/19/2014 10:42:32 PM
Subject: Re: Hi Bill - are you getting actual data from any one in WV?

I would imagine you two are both aware of the website, but WVDHHR contact Bob DeCrease called back and directed me to dhsem.wv.gov website for water data, which he said is current to the 17th. He said mid-website page, there is a link to the operational sampling results. They have not posted any of the "ppb sampling" data since then, and DeCrease was told not to release it. He told me that 4 zones were cleared at the 10 ppb non detect level so far and sampling and analysis is ongoing. A discussion w his manager Walt Ivey may help to release more of this data, but it sounds like Nat'l Guard and WVDHS is holding it close.

Bob

From: Arguto, William
Sent: Sunday, January 19, 2014 3:25:22 PM
To: Helverson, Robert
Subject: Re: Hi Bill - are you getting actual data from any one in WV?

Thanks Bob

From: Helverson, Robert
Sent: Sunday, January 19, 2014 3:23:36 PM
To: Werner, Lora; Arguto, William
Subject: Re: Hi Bill - are you getting actual data from any one in WV?

Spoke with JD from WVDHHR and he said he will get us all the data from plant effluent and out in distrib system today or tomorrow. He took today off but his backup was alerted and I may hear more today. Will update when I have more info. The data is being held at the water plant command center (add that to the list of "command centers").

JD confirmed all effluent results below 10 ppb, and occasional hits in distrib around 20 ppb but verification samples from these spots are also showing <DL. Don't quote me as I said I will wait for the data!

Bob

From: Helverson, Robert
Sent: Sunday, January 19, 2014 3:03:26 PM
To: Werner, Lora; Arguto, William
Subject: Re: Hi Bill - are you getting actual data from any one in WV?

I left message w JD Douglas who is working on the sampling for the state health agency (Walt Ivey apparently taking a much needed weekend break). I couldn't get through or leave a message w Nat'l Guard Gregory Grant, the POC that Mike Dorsey provided, who apparently holds the data. If no success today, I will ask General Hoyer if its possible to provide that data to us.

Bob

From: Werner, Lora
Sent: Sunday, January 19, 2014 2:59:43 PM
To: Arguto, William
Cc: Helverson, Robert
Subject: Re: Hi Bill - are you getting actual data from any one in WV?

Thanks, Bill! Will do!

From: Arguto, William
Sent: Sunday, January 19, 2014 2:55:19 PM
To: Werner, Lora
Subject: Re: Hi Bill - are you getting actual data from any one in WV?

Lora

Info is a summary of wva press releases. We don't have locational data. Let me know if Bob has any luck. I have also asked BHP but have not been able to contact them

From: Werner, Lora
Sent: Sunday, January 19, 2014 2:39:26 PM
To: Arguto, William
Subject: Hi Bill - are you getting actual data from any one in WV?

We still have nothing past what is publicly available thru 1/16.

Bob trying to work w/army contact on that in field.

Just wondered who you were in touch w/at American Water and if they were sharing actual data. Thanks a million. Lora ÿ